

A case story of a care leaver

Name : Parul Parvin
Family House : Shah Amanat (R.)
SOS Village : SOS Children's Village Chattogram
Date of Birth : 16.05.1988
Date of Admission into
SOS Children's Village : 26.03.1990
Date of Departure from
SOS Facility : 12.04.2009
Date of Integration : 12.04.2009

Parul Parvin is a care leaver girl of SOS Children's Village Chattogram at Shah Amanat (R :) house. She is an Aid Nurse at Peoples Hospital, Chawak bazar Chattogram. She is 32 years old.

Parul was part of SOS family since her early childhood. The care and love of her SOS mother, backing from her SOS siblings, and overall support the village helped her growing in the lively environment. In the village, she got training on basic life skills - communication, cooperation, problem-solving and setting personal goals. Parul failed to complete the secondary education for low merit. She expressed her desire to take training on nursing and her dreams comes true after completion of Aid nursing course from a reputed hospital. Finally, she got a job in that hospital as a nurse. She got married and is blessed with a son. She is now leading a happy independent life.

Since her inception of the job Parul devoted herself for mankind. She is very helpful to the patients. Doctors trusted her for her attentiveness towards patients. She lives near the hospital. She works six days in a week (3 days 2.00P.M to 9.00P.M and other 3days 9.00P.M – 8.00A.M). In the night shift, her husband accompanied her for going to the hospital. She has been working there since 2009 (11 years).

As a nurse she always helps the patients. When any patient becomes in critical condition, she gets tense how to recover this situation. She tries her level best for recovering the patient.

In the COVID-19 pandemic situation, Parul looks after the patient by maintaining safety measures. She wears hands gloves, mask; cap etc. to protect herself to keep safe.

She calls upon her brothers & sisters to stay home, stay safe. Wash hands with soap, take a bath every day. Clean the cloths regularly and use handkerchief in the time of sneezing & coughing.

Parul urges mass people to take safety measure, stay home, maintain social distance and take care of parents and children.